THE LAW OF TITLES
TITLE LAW ANNOTATED
TITLE MANAGEMENT TODAY

July 10, 2003

Dear Former and Prospective Subscribers:

As you know Title Law Associates has recently completed the purchase of Title Management Today, and I am the new editor. Some changes in structure, content and editorial policy have been made to build upon and enhance the value for subscribers.

Title Management Today is a quarterly news magazine that supplements materials presented on the Title Law Associates website located at www.titlelawannotated.com. Accompanying the quarterly issues will be 6 to 8 monthly supplements entitled Title Management Today Title Comments. As successor by reason of merger with the Title Law Associates Newsletter, the goal of Title Management Today is to share with readers current industry news and case decisions presented, by title underwriting counsel, to the American Land Titles Association's semi-annual Title Counsel Meetings. The news and cases presented at these meetings are culled, by professionals for title professionals, from many different sources across the U.S. and, are believed to be of national significance to the title insurance industry. The publication and the accompanying web site are principally designed for title company employees, officers, agents, approved attorneys, real estate lawyers and claims litigation counsel. The material presented may then be down loaded by subscribers to the index of their respective title/claims litigation files. Title Law Associates has provided such an index on its web site at the Claims Litigation Index link.

The current July 2003 issue of the news magazine may be found on our web site at the Title Management Today link. The August issue will be available on or about July 28th. If you experience any problems accessing the material please contact us immediately. In the future all issues will be posted to the web site at that link. In order to deliver the remainder of the subscription for those who have time left under the previous ownership, we are providing unsecured access to the information online. Eventually all current subscribers will be issued an access Password and ID. We will provide hard copy for those subscribers who do not have internet or e-mail capability. To assist us in serving you, we would greatly appreciate it if each of you would forward your e-mail address to our offices. E-mail addresses will comprise a part of the future password. Our Marketing Director and Web Site Administrator will explain this procedure more fully before years end. We will keep these addresses in confidence if you so request.

Please contact our offices directly if you are interested in subscribing. After you have had time to review the July issue, if you have any thoughts or suggestions on how we can improve upon this publication, I would appreciate hearing from you. Thank you for your continued support, courtesy and cooperation during this transition period. We will try to keep it as smooth as possible. We will advise you in the near future of those persons who comprise our editorial board.
